

YEAR at a glance

TITLE: AQUILA

THEME: VISION

OAKRIDGE HIGH SCHOOL
1983

This year's book is sincerely dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Christina Straley. She served on the faculty of Oakridge High School for 17 years as the chemistry, physics, and science teacher. Mrs. Straley always gave her utmost to help her students learn all they could. Many times, she was able to give examples and practical advice based on her experience in the chemical industry before coming to OHS. Mrs. Straley enriched the lives of all who knew her and will be greatly missed by the staff and students alike.

GLANCING BACK

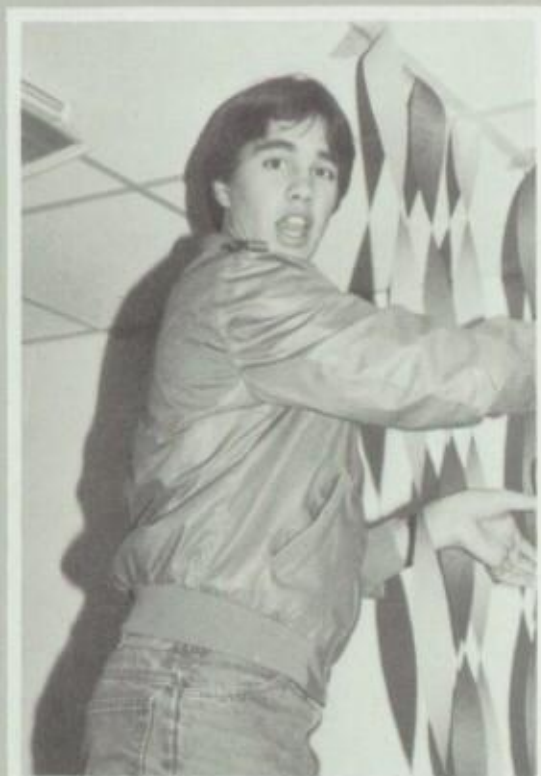

If you look back on the past year, you'd realize that it was definitely more than books and pencils. There were so many instances when you were more than a student! For example, the impromptu acting. Remember when you were late to class because you were with your boyfriend or girlfriend but you told the teacher that it was because your locker wouldn't open? Or maybe the time you forgot your gym clothes, and suddenly (and fortunately) got a terrible sickness which kept you from participating in gym? You can't help but remember the time you received that well worked for grade because you stayed home one weekend to study. Then there were the powerful times that will never leave your mind. Times like losing the big game to a rival school, and almost crying as you watched the team walk slowly off the field. Or winning a game like that, and going crazy in the stands. Don't ever forget the laughing times, or the times when a laugh was the last thing on your mind. There were the embarrassing times when the teacher caught you passing notes. The disappointing times when you didn't get a place in the play or on the team. It was a year to be remembered, it was your year. So glance back on it, but focus your vision towards the next.

SPRIT WEEK
EVENTS & WINNERS
OCTOBER 25 THRU 29

Although some schools are dropping the tradition of building floats for homecoming, it lives on at OHS. Only the big game tops it in excitement and work.

It all starts with the Student Council. They pick a general theme that the class can work with. In the past, themes have included nursery rhymes, cartoon characters, and movies. This year's theme was Historical Events.

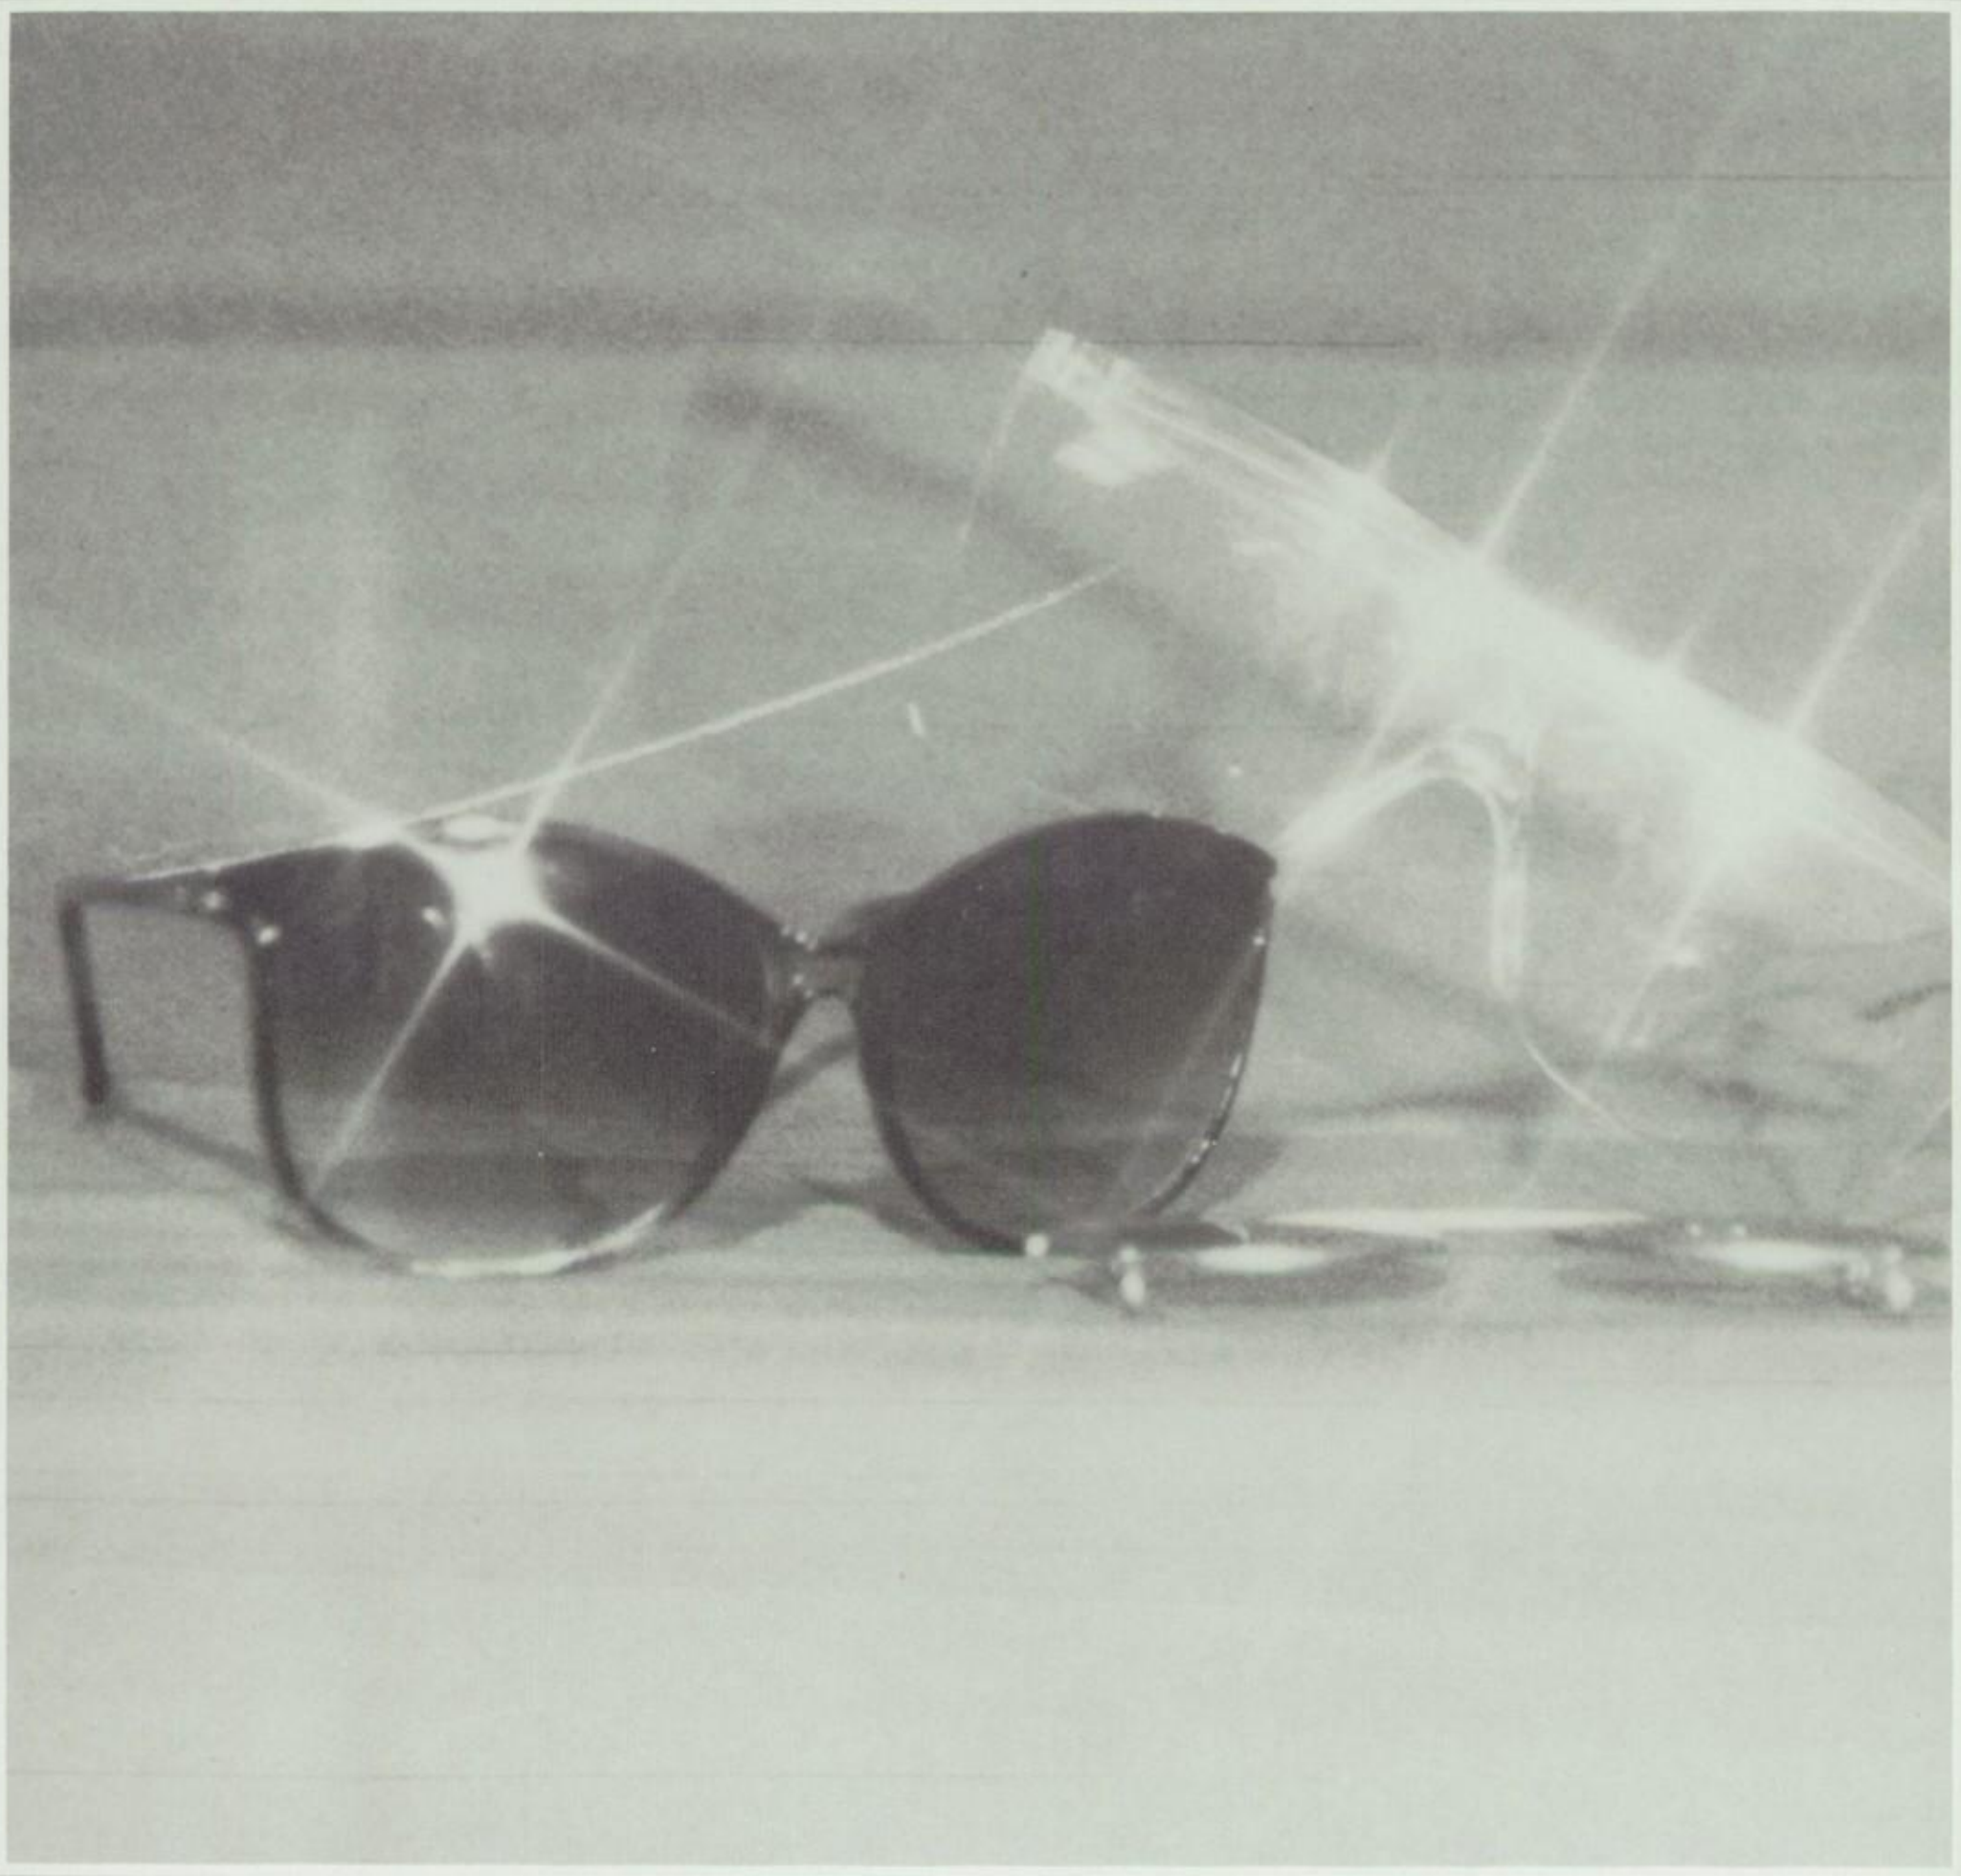

But the planning does not stop there. Student Council representatives take the theme back to their classes to pick a specific idea. These ideas are on a "first come, first choice" basis because the Student Council does not allow two classes to use the same idea.

After the class has chosen an idea, they must find a trailer to build it on, a garage to build it in, and a car to pull it with. The class can usually accomplish these with a minimum amount of work, thanks to the cooperation of parents and students.

The next step is to buy those needed materials (tissue paper, paints, string, chicken wire, etc.) because without these, students can not start the actual work on the float. The work consists of long hours after school and on weekends making the idea become real. The work also includes speculating on how well the other classes are doing.

All through Spirit Week the rush is on, and the madness continues to build until the final minutes before half-time! After the half-time show, the crowning of the king and queen, and the results of the float competition, the floats roll back to the garages. There, the students tear the float apart, pack away the excess materials, and vow to build a better float next year.

CLASSES

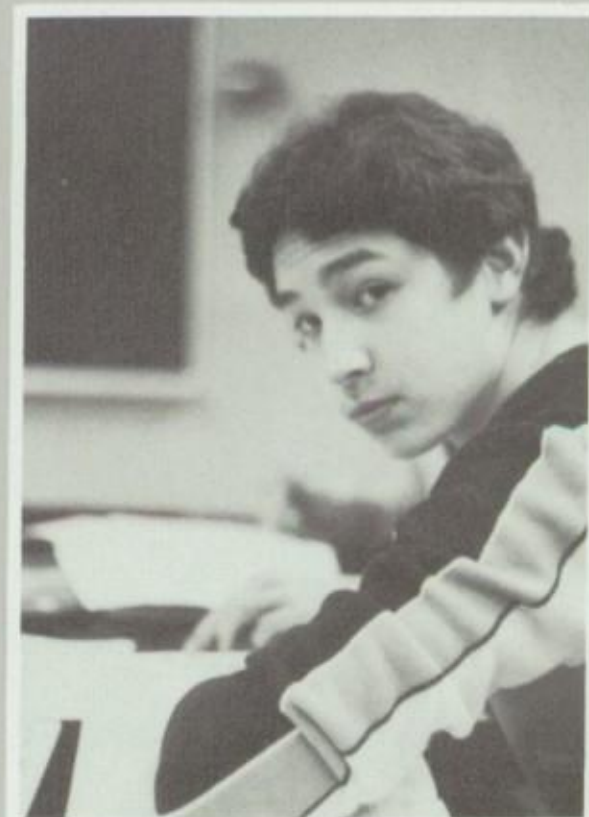

BIOLOGY

Oakridge offers two years of biology. Between the two courses, students obtain an excellent understanding of all types of life, from the microscopic one-celled organisms to the complex human being. The biology classes are very interesting. Students make insect and leaf collections, and dissect worms, crayfish, starfish, frogs and fetal pigs. Students also make cell studies and grow cultures of various bacterium. Other areas covered are diseases and their causes, and genetics.

PHYSICS

As one of the more advanced science courses offered at this school, Physics is for the students who plan on furthering their studies in engineering or science in college. Some of the areas covered by the physics class are mass, acceleration, gravity, electronics, light, and wave motion. Along with lecturing and classroom work, the students do much lab work to help visualize the material that they are studying. Since Physics is a college prep course, students taking it should expect a lot of hard work.

SCIENCE

EARTH

Students wishing to know more about the planet on which they live would find Earth Science very interesting. Experiments play a huge role in helping students understand the text material. Earth Science students cover a variety of subjects. The class begins with studying the different types of rocks. The course continues by covering volcanoes, glaciers, and stars. Towards the end of the course, students research a topic from class discussions for a paper. Earth Science is very beneficial to students wanting to prepare for future studies in geology or astronomy.

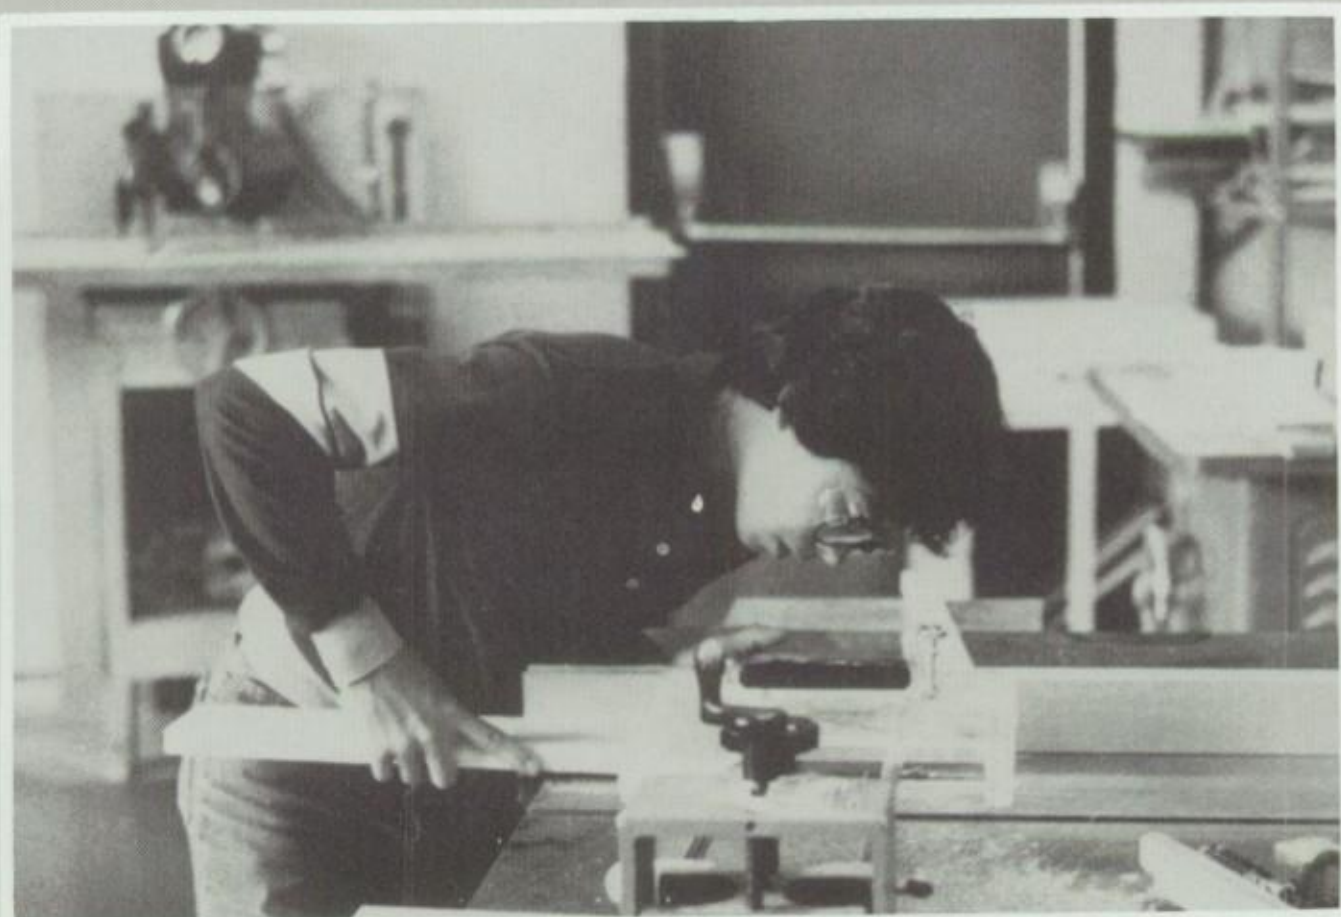

HOME EC.

Home ec offers OHS students a chance to have hands-on experience at cooking, sewing, nursing, and child care. Home Ec I and II deal in basic knowledge of cooking and sewing skills. An addition of a microwave oven added a new dimension to the cooking side of these two courses. Oakridge, however, offers two other classes in the home ec department. Students taking Nursing learn first-aid and basic nursing skills. According to the students, the hardest part of the class is making the hospital bed correct. Those corners can prove to be difficult. Child Development is designed to teach the students about the physical and emotional stages children go through. As the role of homemakers change, OHS's home ec classes strive to meet these changes.

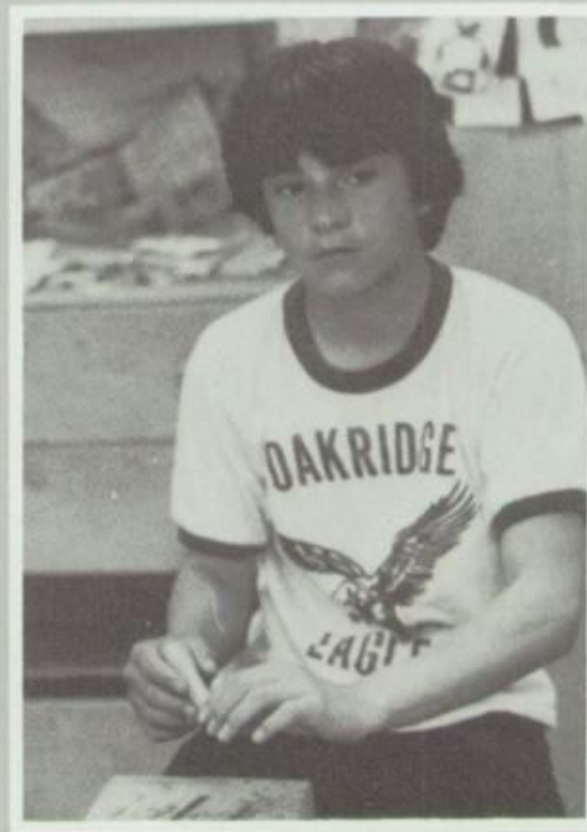

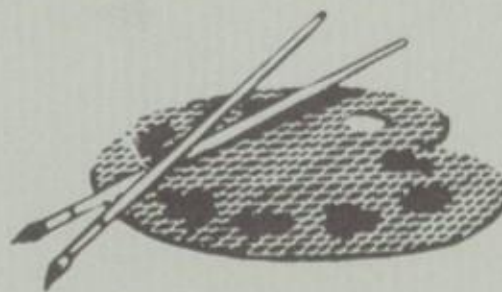

SHOP

The many different shop classes offer the students a chance to show their creativity and handiwork by constructing projects of wood and/or metal. Every year, students turn out several exceptionally well-crafted projects. Some examples of these have included waterbeds, tables, chests, and gun cabinets. Besides actually building items, the students learn machine and tool safety. One popular aspect of the shop classes is that the students do not only have pre-made blueprints, but some classes allow them to design their own projects.

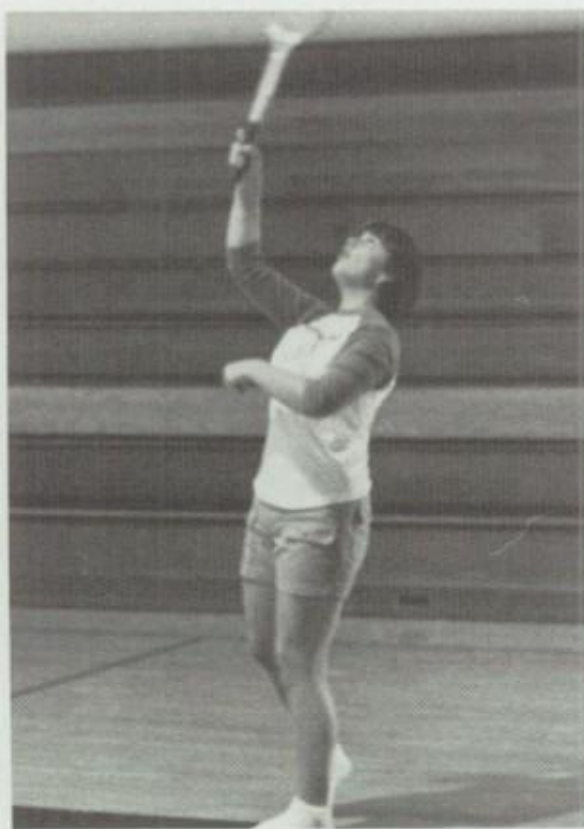

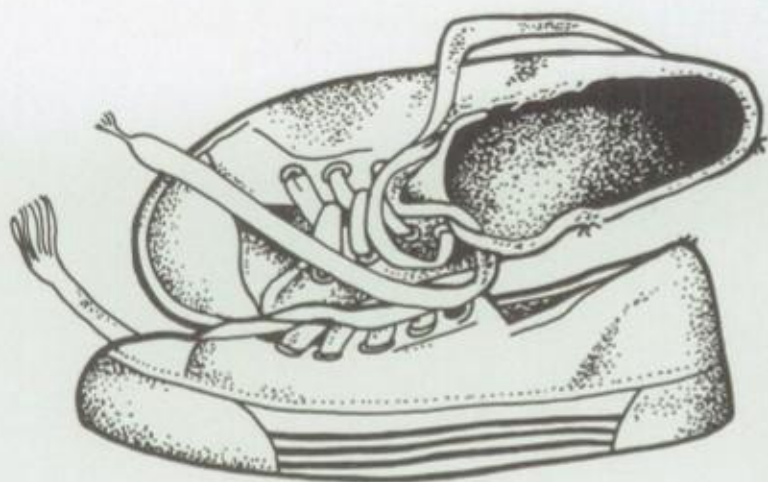

ART

With decreasing school budgets, some schools are finding it necessary to drop their art departments. Here at Oakridge, however, the arts live on! Mrs. Weller is exceptionally good at motivating all her students. OHS offers three formal art classes. Art I, II, and III take students through the basics, stressing more originality as students expand their knowledge. Pottery, still life drawing, and Renaissance painters and their styles are just a few of the topics covered in art. Oakridge's art department is full of talented people. Some of the students have had the opportunity to show their work county wide at Fame.

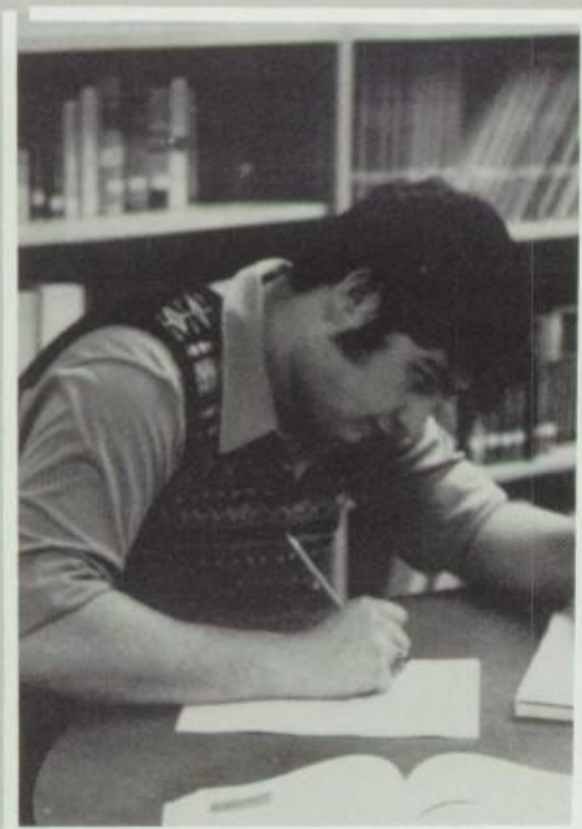

PHYS. ED.

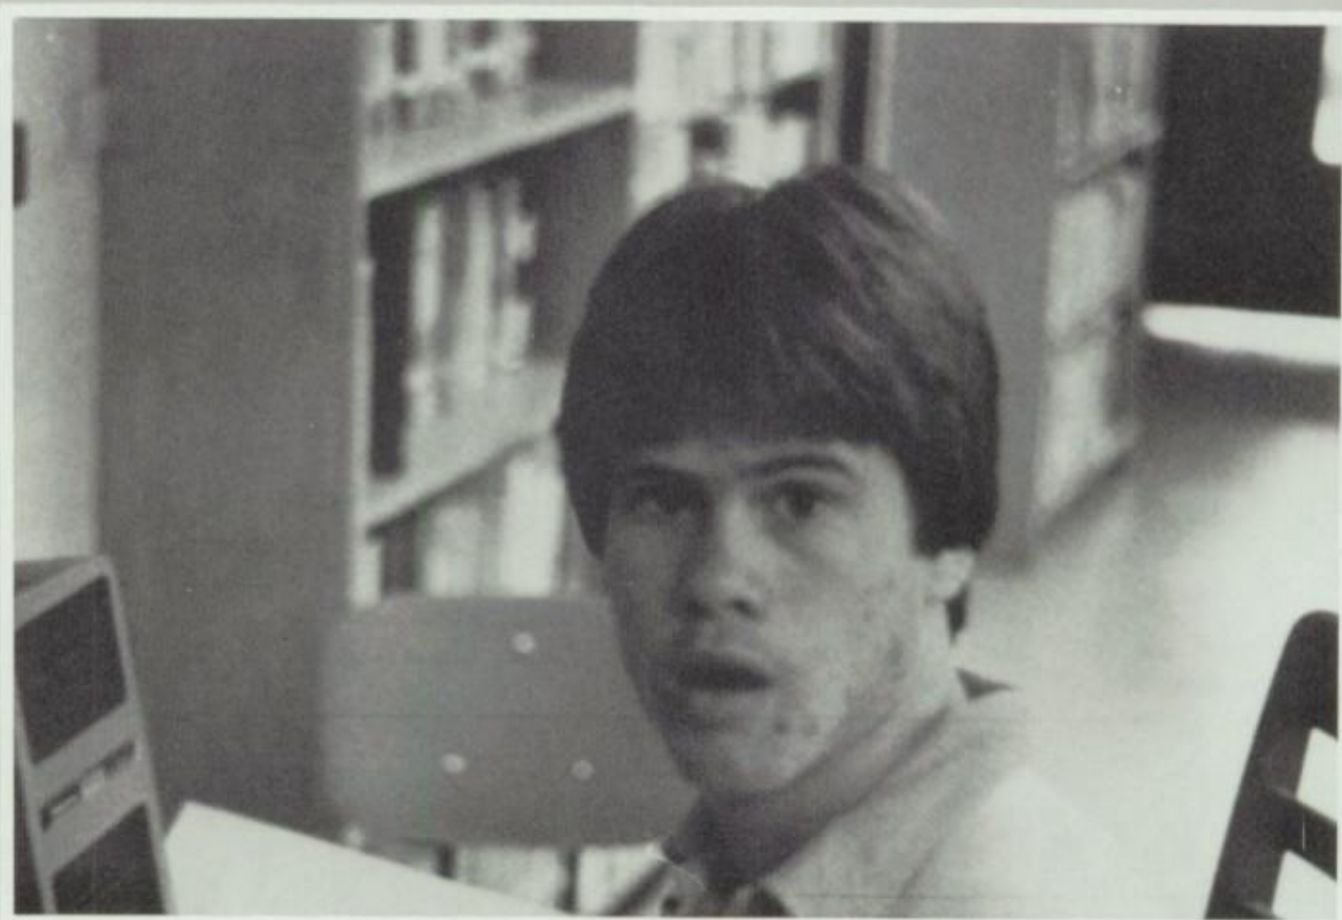

Oakridge requires two years of physical education. Most students complete this requirement in their freshman or sophomore years. In the first year, students alternate between gym classes and studyhall; second year students alternate between the health room and the gym. Cid, Mr. Swinburne, and Mr. McCarthy cover many areas in their P.E. courses. Basketball, volleyball, touch football, and track & field are only a few sports the instructors teach their classes. For students wanting to continue in phys. ed., Oakridge offers advanced physical education. These advanced classes challenge the student's abilities and skills that he or she learned in Phys. Ed. I and II. OHS's physical education classes improve the body, as well as the mind.

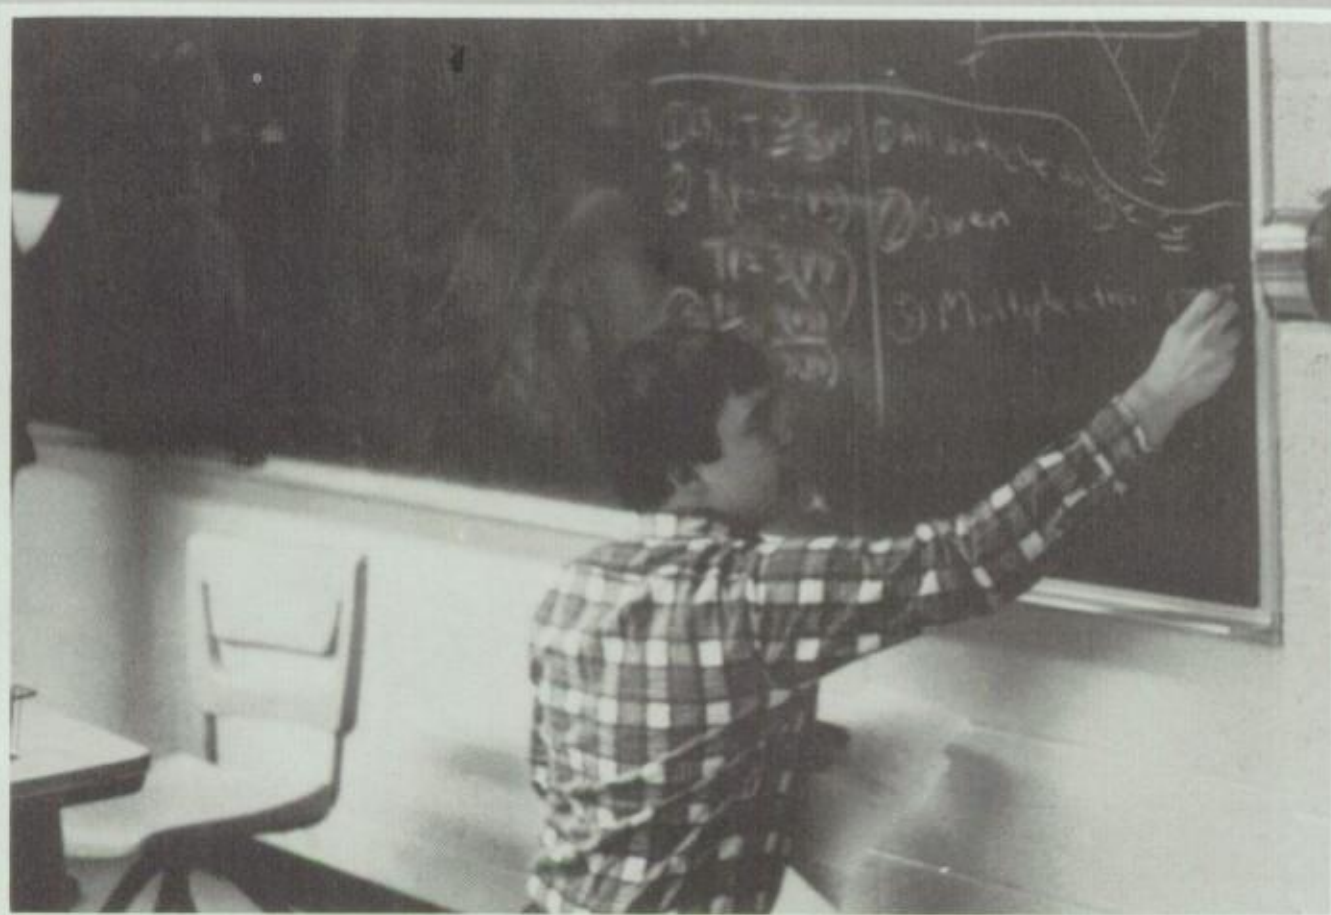

LIBRARY

The high school library not only offers students a quiet place to study, but also the materials to assist in other ways. The library has books and magazines for education and enjoyment. The vertical files are a valuable source of information for students of Speech or Advanced Comp. The addition of two computers brought the library into the age of technology. Now, students have experience using the computer through playing games, learning BASIC programming, and writing their own programs. The library offers an environment of learning for faculty and students.

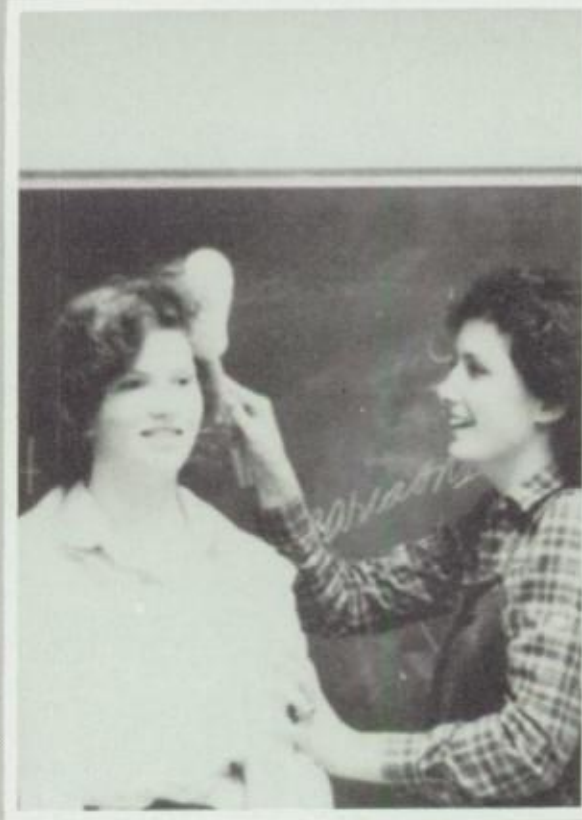

MATH

Oakridge's math program is a good example of how a small school with limited funds can offer a quality education. Students have a variety of courses to choose from. Refresher math and general math courses are beneficial to those who do not plan to continue in mathematics, but want some basic math skills. Consumers Math deals with math that a student will need in life, such as how to figure insurance premiums, discounts, and loan rates. Finally, the college prep courses, Algebra I and II, Geometry, and Advanced Senior Math provide students with a good background for the mathematics he or she might take in college.

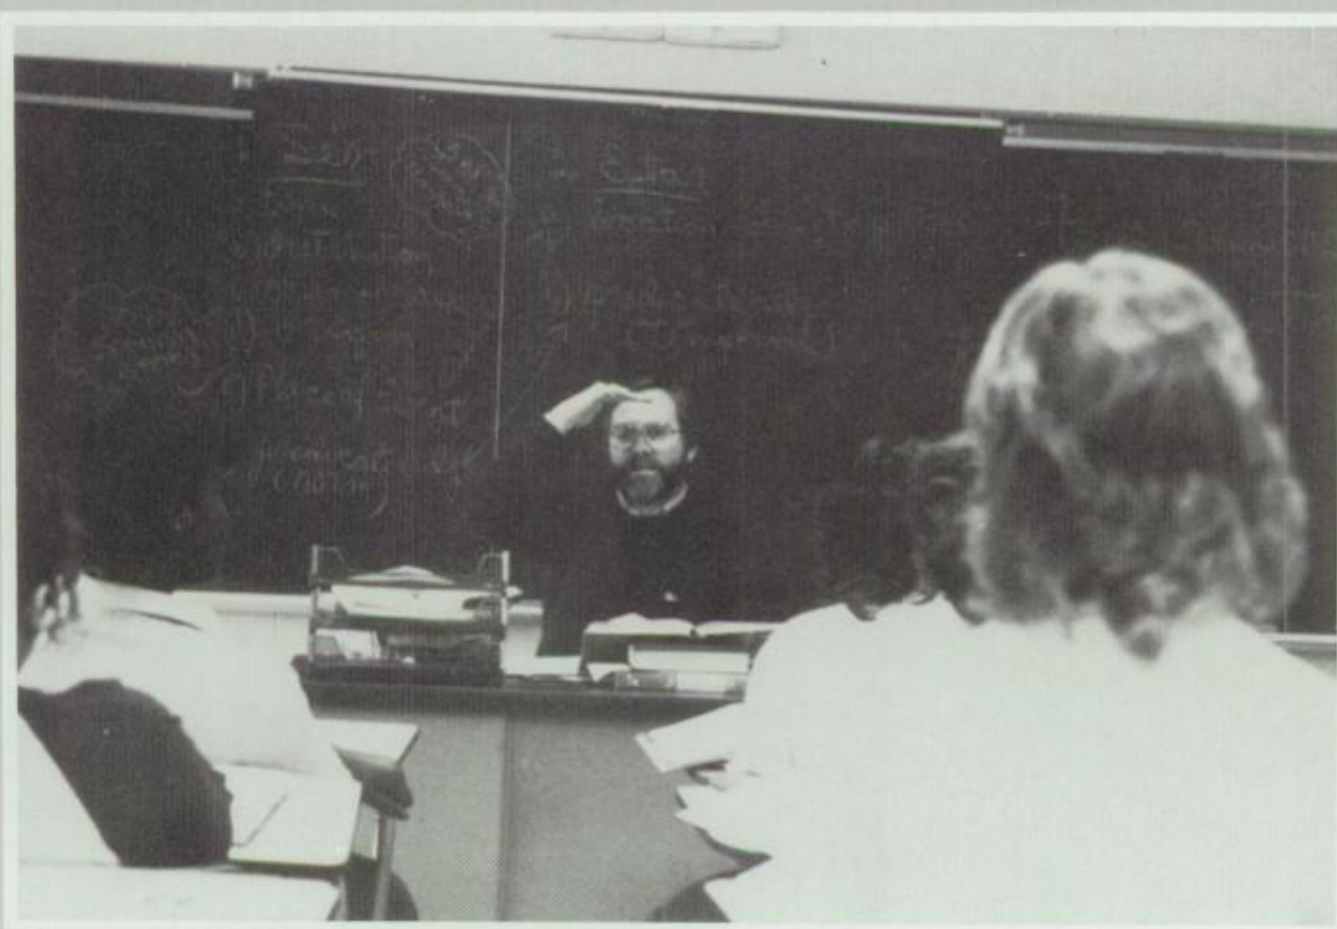

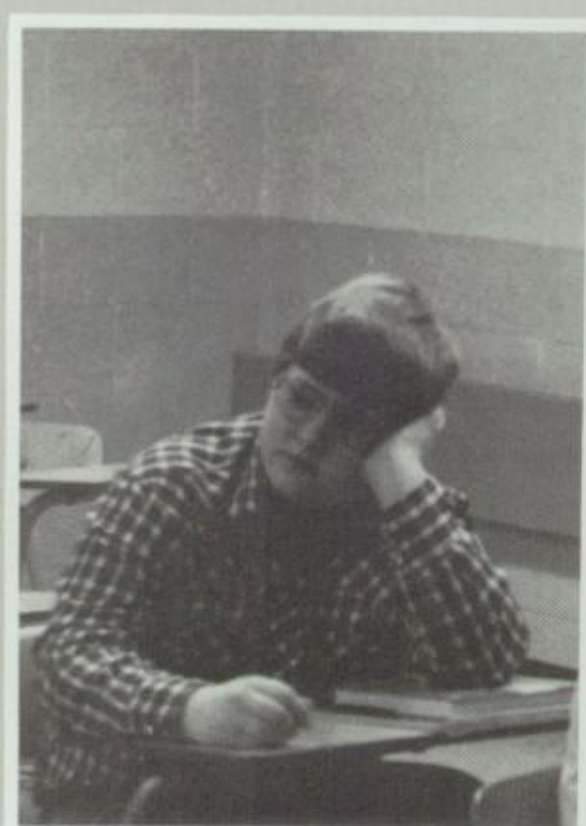

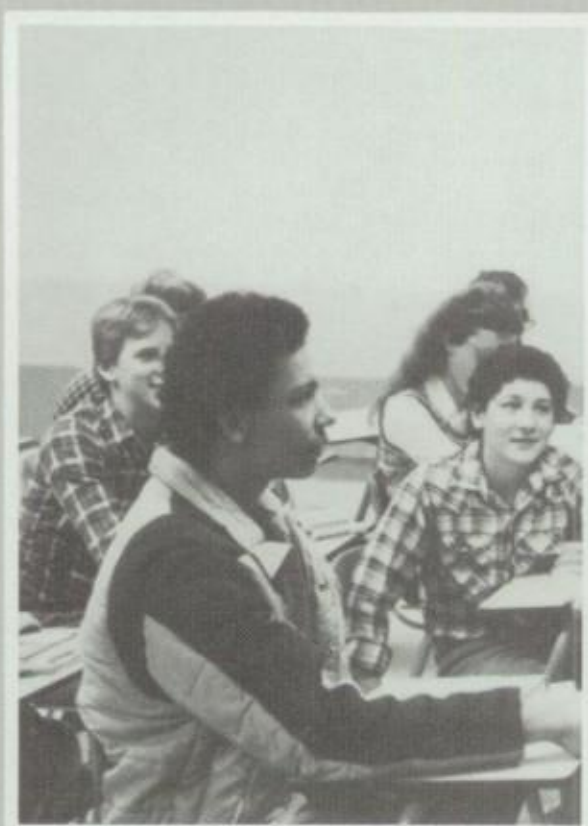

SPEECH

Mrs. Frantz taught all of this year's speech classes. Speech writing and giving is not the only thing students learn in this class. Besides regular speeches, the students have a chance to use their creativity by making up, advertising, and demonstrating fictitious products. They also had a chance to sharpen and refine their communication skills by playing charades. Speech class does an excellent job of teaching students the much needed skill of how to speak in front of others with confidence.

SPANISH

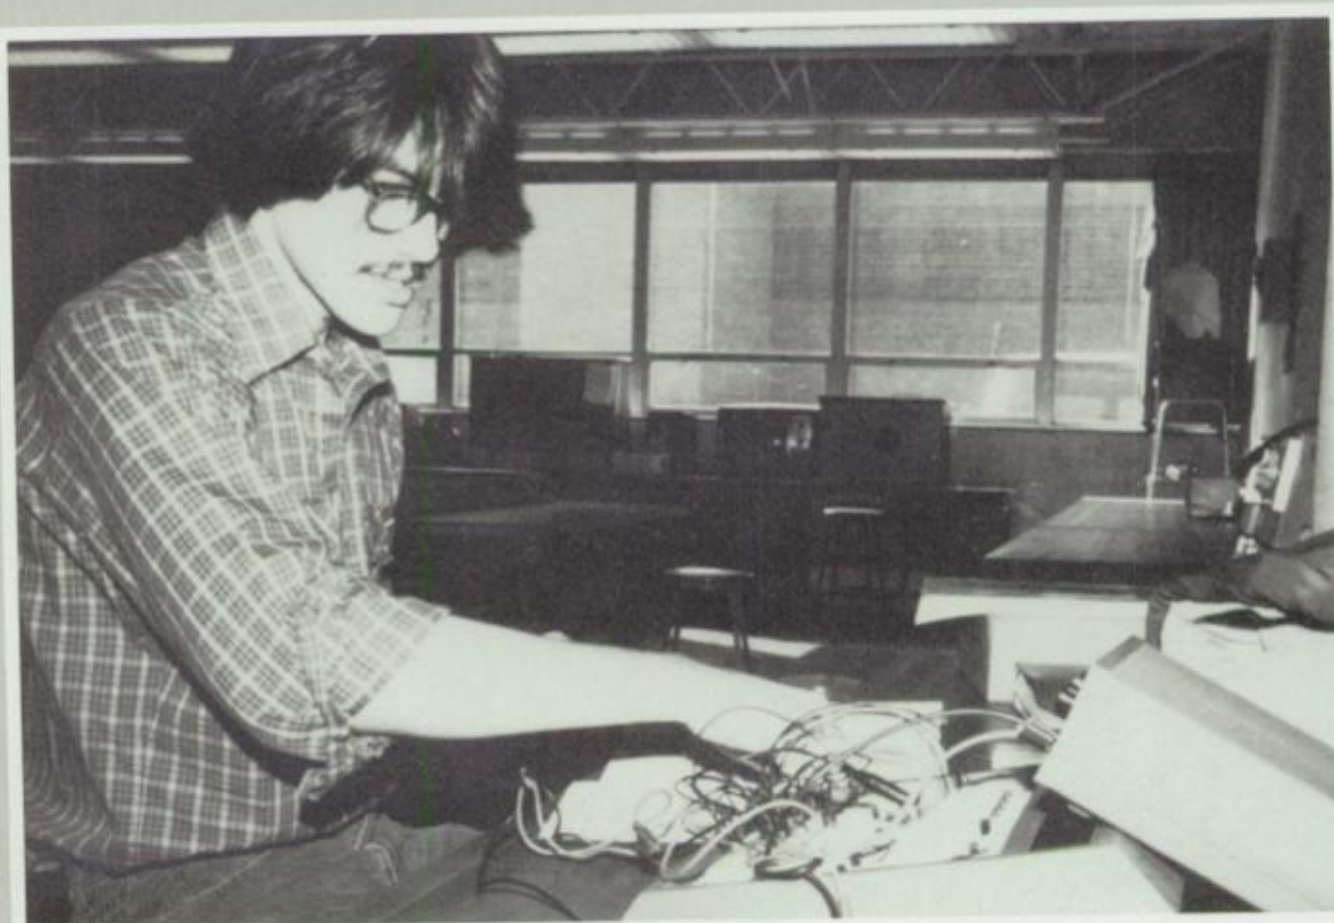

Spanish is the only foreign language taught at Oakridge. The three year program takes the student through a comprehensive study of the Spanish language and touches on the different types of culture in the Spanish world. This class is fun and interesting, but it is not an easy class. Learning a foreign language like Spanish though, can greatly improve students' understanding of their own language by familiarizing themselves with verb tenses and sentence structure. Because of the nature of the class, Spanish is an excellent college prep class in that it requires much out-of-class study.

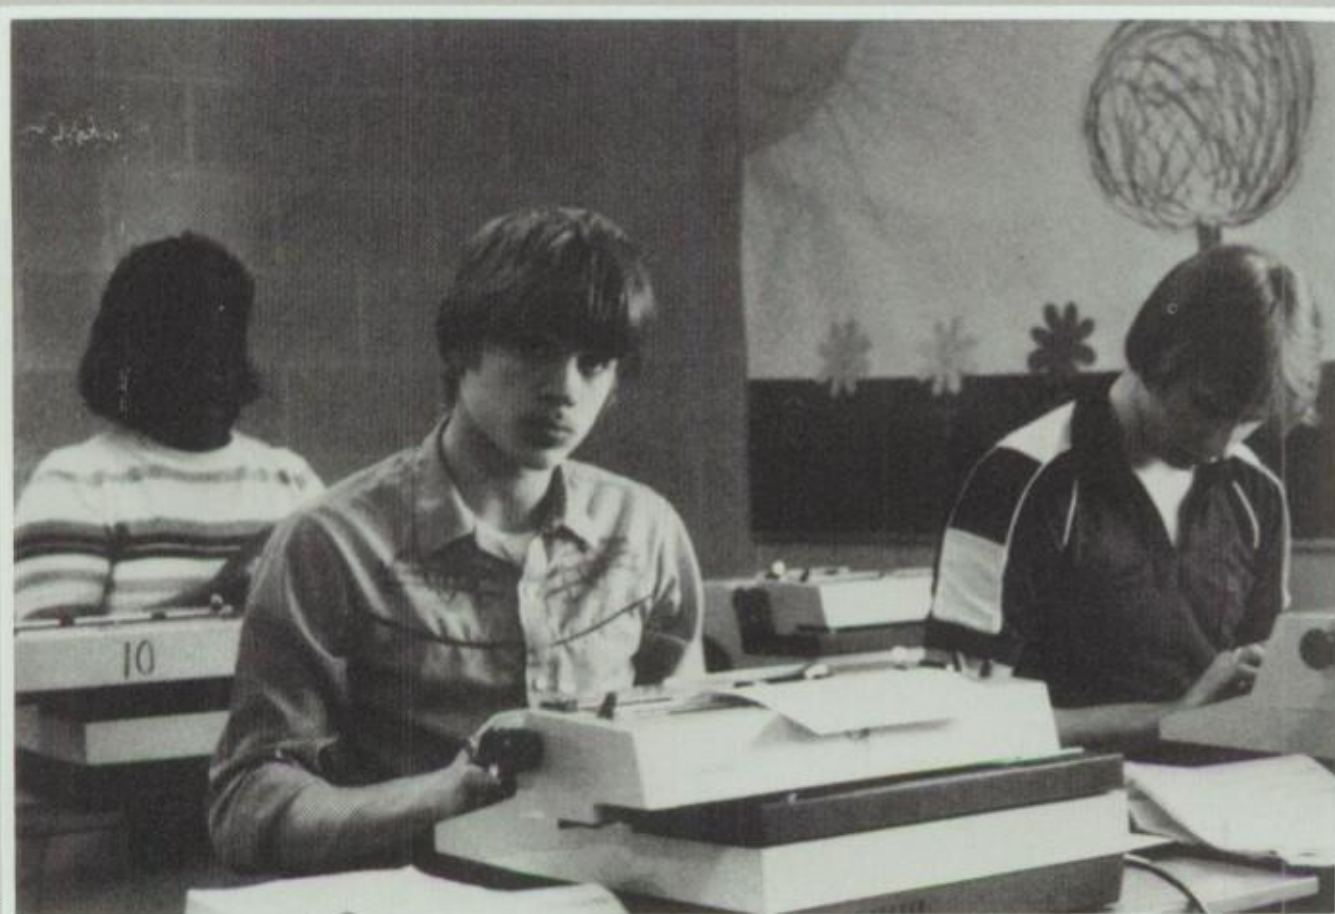

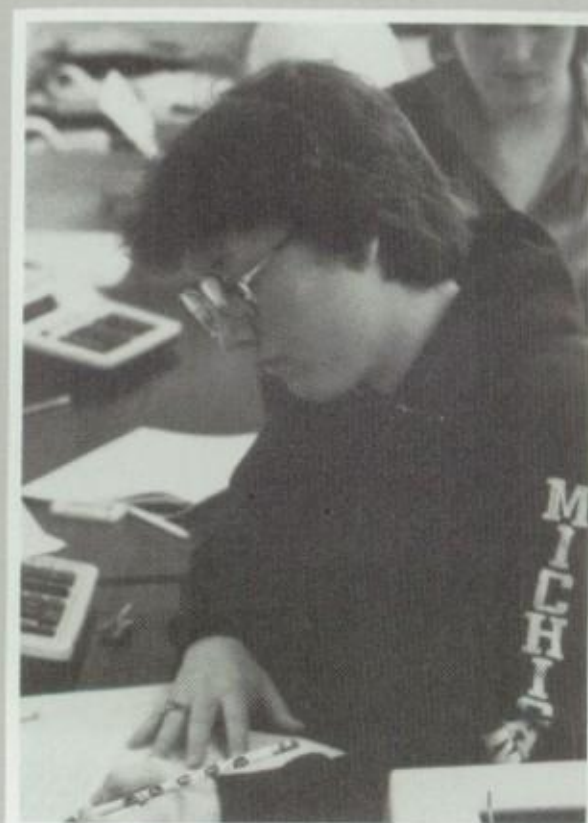

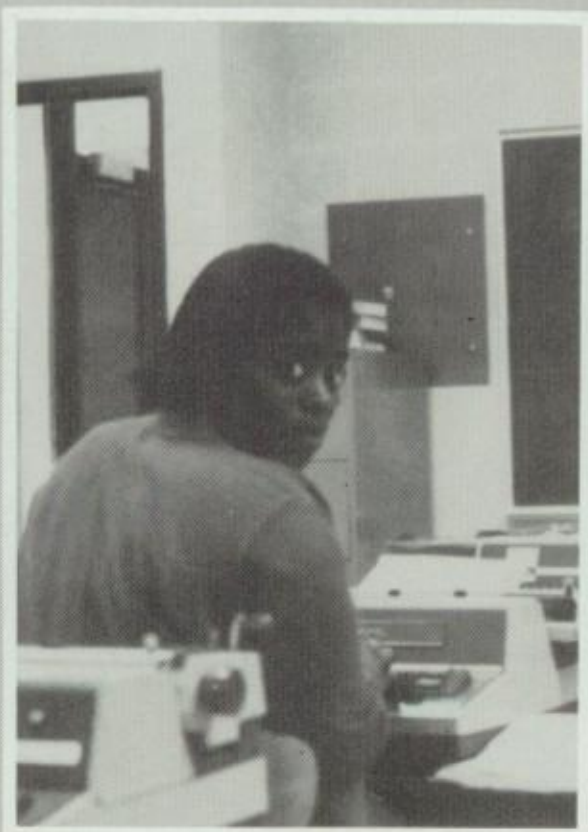

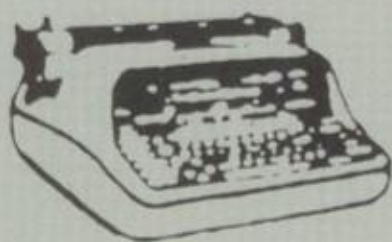

SHARED TIME

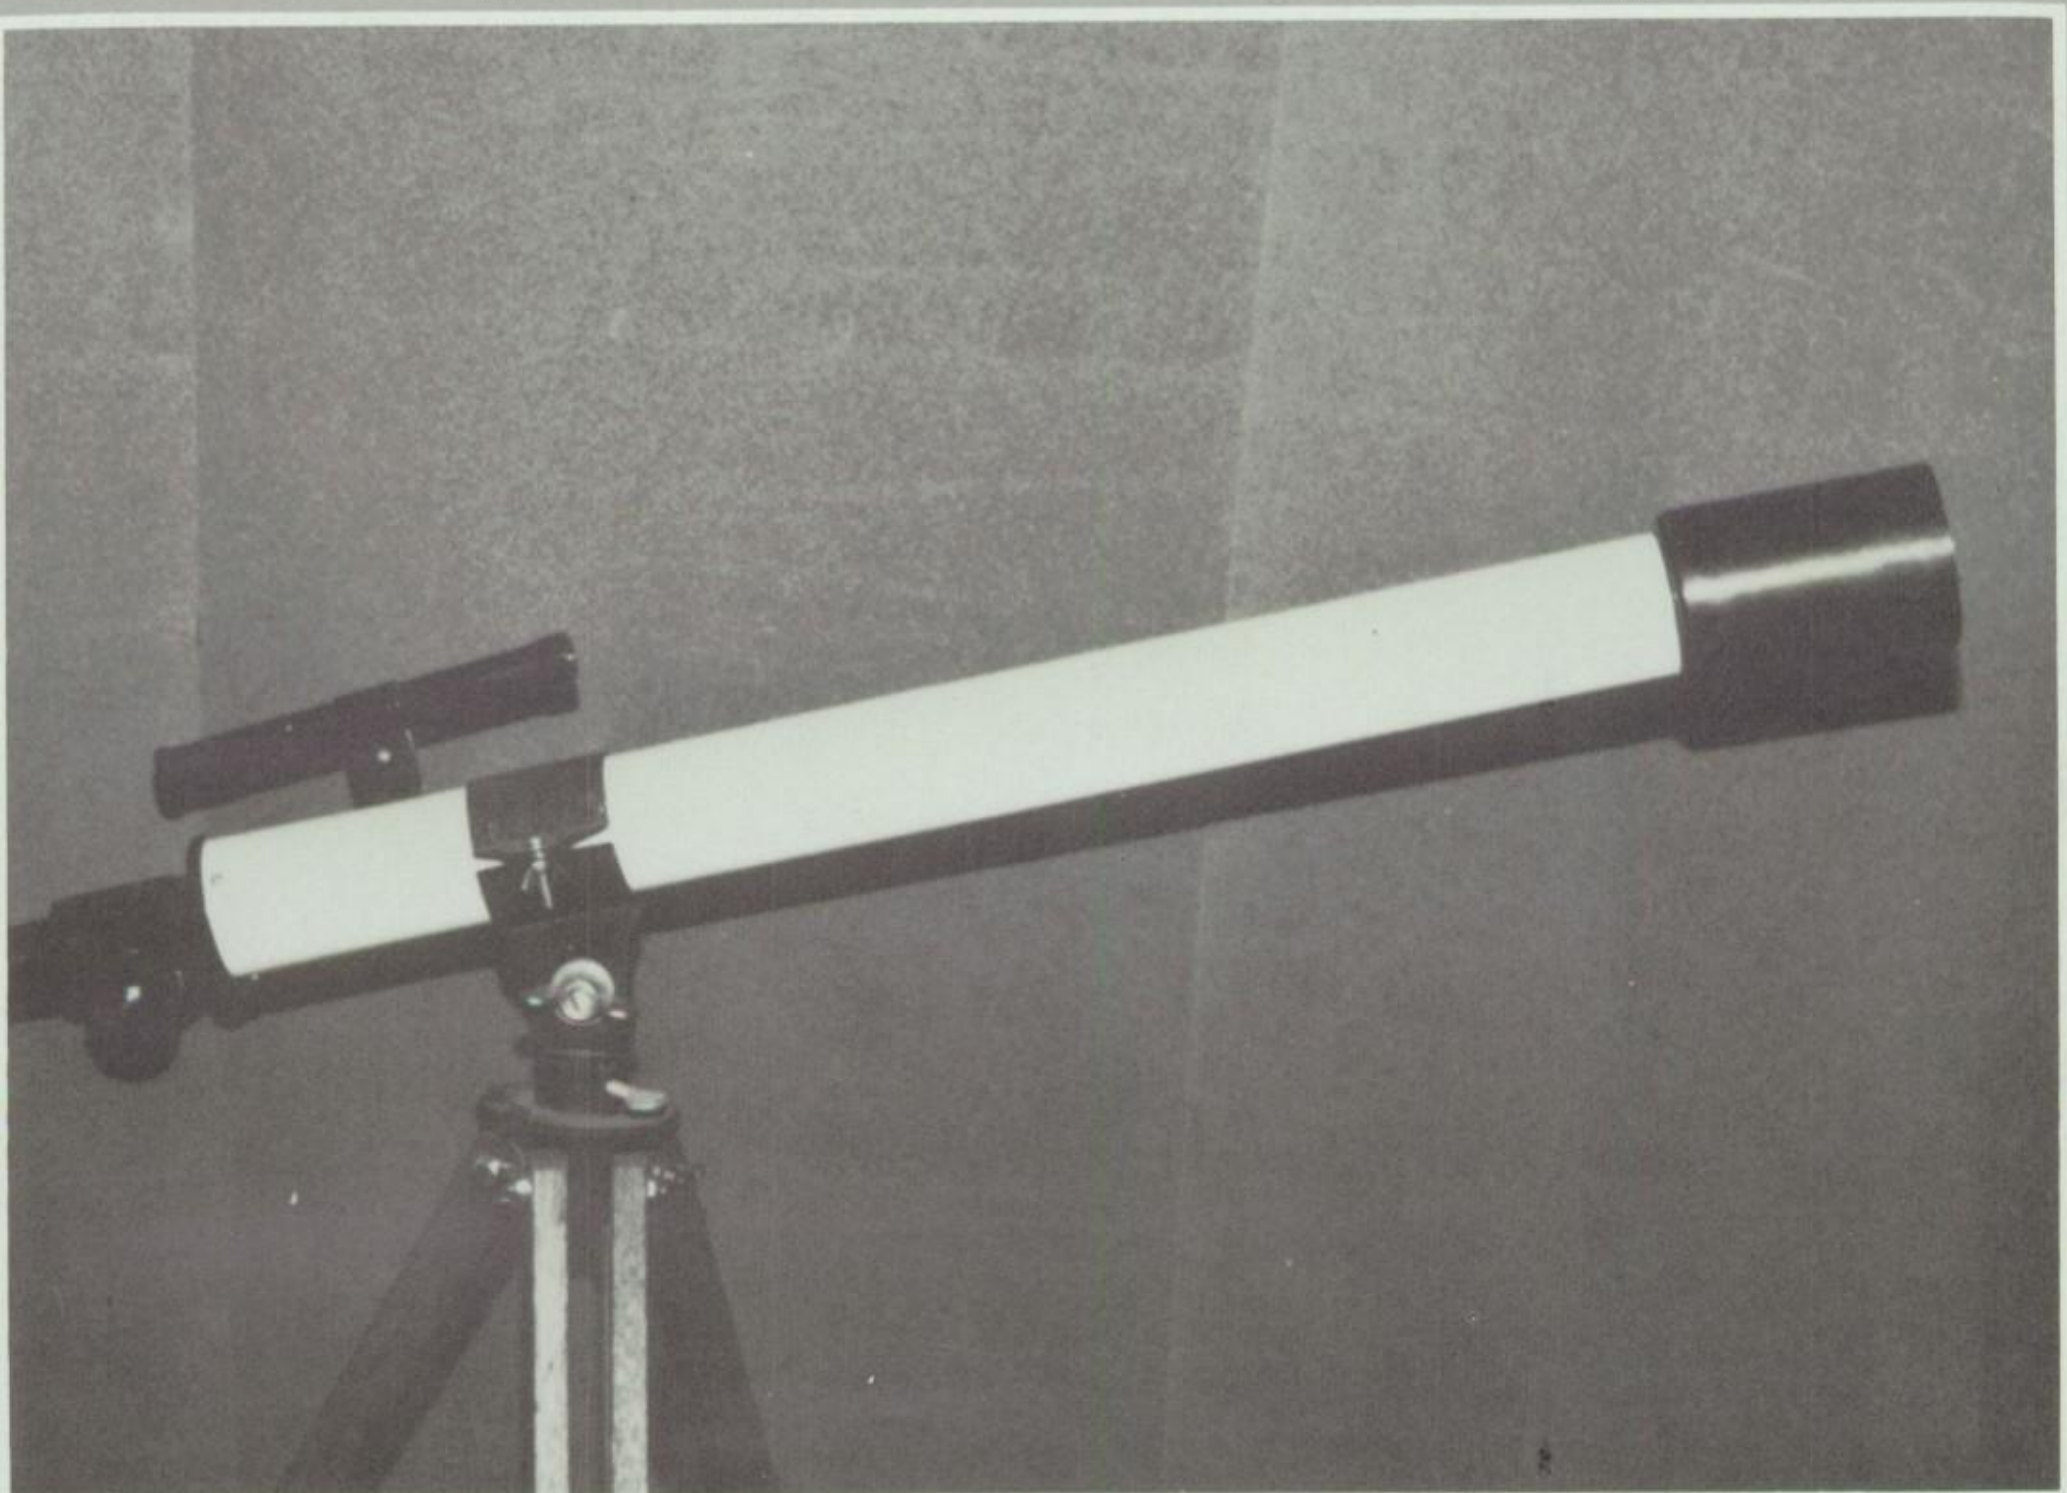

Many high schools in Muskegon County participate in the shared-time program, and OHS is one of them. Students become eligible in their junior year, and may continue in the program through their senior year. The most popular classes are Cosmetology and Data Processing, although many other courses are offered. Muskegon High School hosts most of the classes, but Muskegon Community College, Muskegon Business College, and Peggy White's instructors teach some of the classes. Shared-time is unique because it offers students the chance for specific training which could lead to immediate job placement upon completion of a course.

BUSI-NESS

Oakridge's business department is one of the best at the high school. Miss Weber, Mr. Hering, and Mr. Rasey teach a variety of classes that excellently prepares the student for continued success in the business world. Courses of study in the business department are Typing I, Office Lab, Advanced Office Lab, Recordkeeping, Bookkeeping, and Retailing. Any student with at least one business class is eligible to join the Business Club. With present economic conditions, the earlier students start preparing for their careers, the better the chances of employment later. The business department at OHS is helping young people prepare for a secure future.

SENIORS

DEDICATION

The Senior Class dedicates the following section in memory of Scott Vandembosch, who was sadly missed by everyone during graduation. For his close friends and others, there was an empty spot in this, the class of 1983. He will never be forgotten by any of us.

OHS employee, Dave Zeanwick, is a little camera shy as he goes about his duty of sweeping floors. Dave is a part-time janitor.

Julie Stine, a cashier, is presently employed by Plumbs, Inc. She works at the Plumbs' store in Wolflake.

Co-op gives seniors a chance to work part-time and still earn credit. Many seniors participate in the program. Co-op offers the chance to learn valuable experience. The '83 workers held a variety of jobs. Seniors usually take a job related course, such as Retailing, to learn techniques on how to handle job situations. Most seniors who took advantage of the opportunities Co-op offers were happy they did so.

CLASS CEDAR POINT

On May 16, at approximately 5 a.m., two bus loads of excited seniors set out for Cedar Point. The class trip, which takes place on Senior Skip Day, is one of the highlights of a senior's year.

As usual, the roller coasters were the most favorite rides of the seniors. A log jam, on a water ride called the White Water Landing, detained a few OHS seniors for several minutes.

The seniors, tired from the day's events, arrived back at the high school around midnight. The trip to Cedar Point provided enough excitement to satisfy the Class of '83.

BOYS' STATE

Bill Halterman

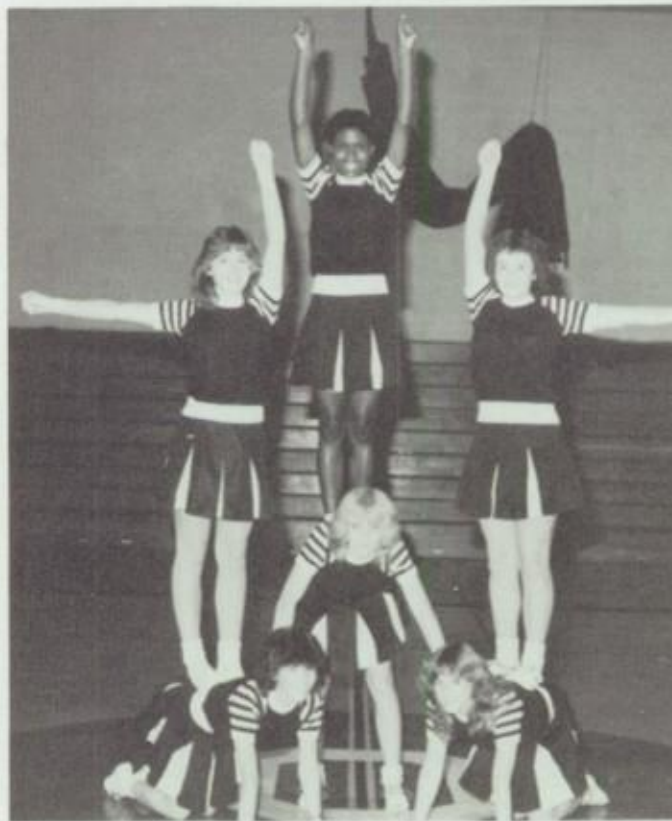

Michigan State University hosted the American Legion Boy's State this year. The purpose of Boys' State is to teach the leaders in every school about state government through actual simulation of government processes. The boys are elected or appointed to offices ranging from governor to city councilman. During the week, the boys may join various groups including newspaper staff, glee club, or a softball team. Boys' State participants were chosen on leadership and an interest in government.

Varsity club represents the top athletes of OHS. These men and women have worked hard for their position on a varsity squad. They have endured a lot of pain and sweat to earn their varsity letters. Anyone who practiced with any of our teams, for just one day, would soon find out that being an athlete is not an easy job.

BUSINESS CLUB

Row 1 (L to R): V. Winkas, C. VanHuizen, K. Bird, D. Smith, K. Obenauf; Row 2: K. Fitzgerald, M. Dietz, C. Winkas, A. Wert, R. Driscoll, D. Morey, K. Crocker, S. Reinhold, A. Greenawalt, Mr. Rasey; Row 3: B. Hoeker, D. Rabidoux, T. Peters, J. Winkas, J. Croff.

The club is designed to give business students a business education related activity. They attempt to stimulate interest in the business world by visiting area business offices, by money-making activities, and by recreational activities. They sold Ready-Pop popcorn for their money-making project. They made $300 profit. Part of this money went for the club's expenses and $100 went to the business department. The club had a tour of the business department of Muskegon Community College, during February. On December 13, they had a Christmas party and exchanged gifts. We had a banquet in May. At this banquet they went out for pizza and bowling. This is paid for out of the proceeds of their popcorn sales.

CHOIR

This year has been a growing experience for the choir. Besides singing second hour every day, an offshoot group, a girls ensemble, and practices after school, several people have worked hard enough to present solers at the concerts.

Ms. Joiner has made sure her students have an enjoyable class, while producing a choice vocal group. OHS can be proud to be represented by this artistic group.

YEARBOOK STAFF

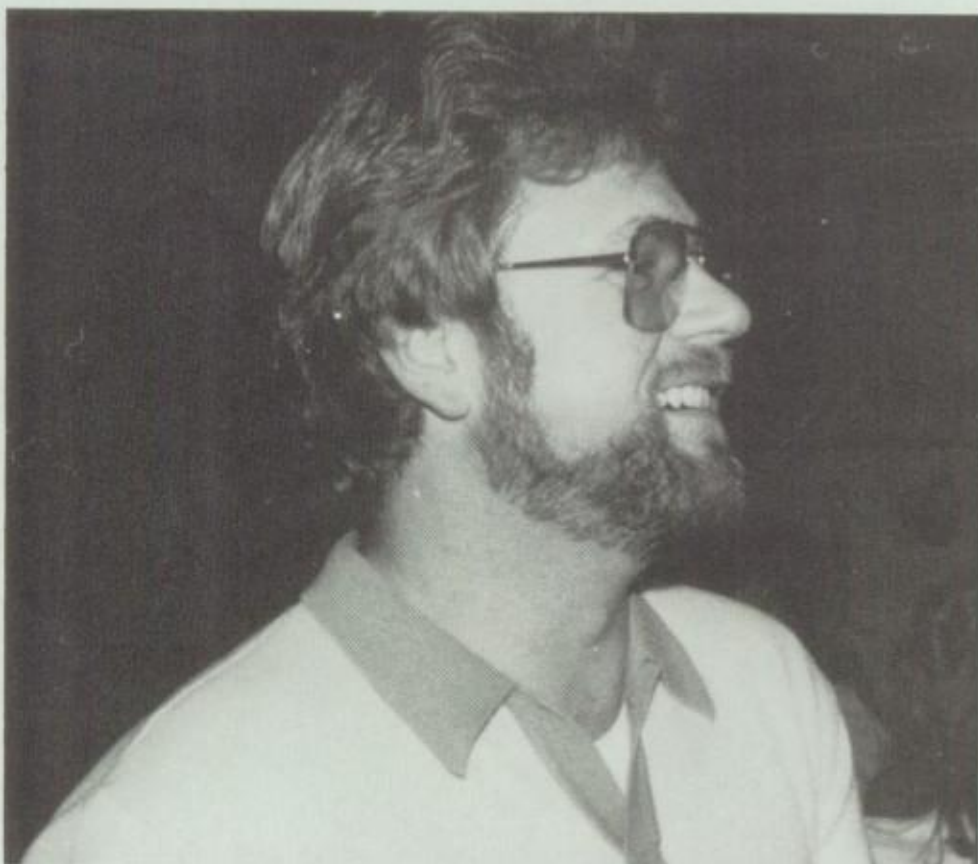

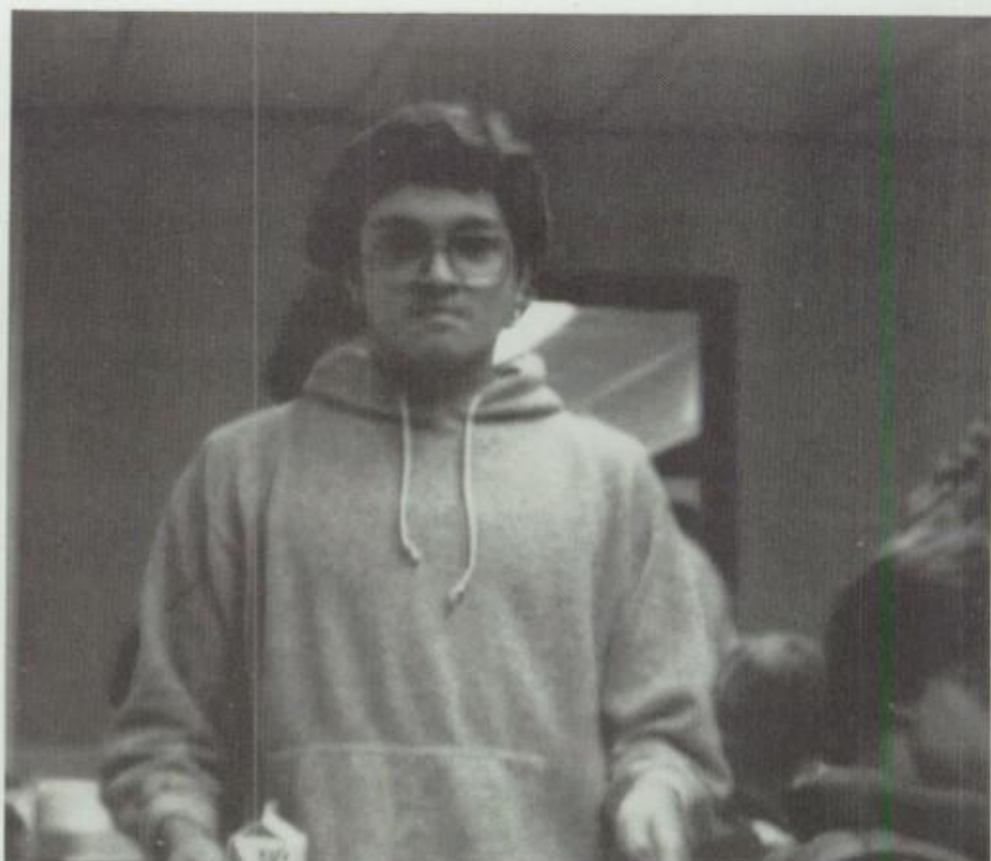

The 1982-83 yearbook staff used many free hours and a lot of time after school to produce this book. They sold candy at noon and carnations at homecoming and Valentine's Day to raise funds. They also went to hundreds of businesses in Muskegon county trying to sell ads. Then there was the time spent actually making the book. A big thank you to Gale Dewitt, the advisor who organized the effort to make this yearbook possible.

THE PHANTOM OF THE OLD OPERA HOUSE

The fall play, "The Phantom of the Old Opera House," was a success thanks to a hard working cast. The wide range of characters in the play presented a challenge to many people. For two freshmen, it was their first play, and for five seniors, their last fall production. Many people gave their time and put quite a bit of effort into the play. Opening night, however, made it all worthwhile. In spite of a few cases of stage fright, the play went on without any problems.

It was the best of times,
it was the worst of times,
it was the age of wisdom,
it was the age of foolishness,
it was the epoch of belief,
it was the epoch of
incredulity,
it was the season of Light,
it was the season of Darkness,
it was the spring of hope,
it was the winter of despair,
we had everything before us,
we had nothing before us . . .
— Charles Dickens

FOREMOST

YOU GOTTA HAVE ART

The second annual FAME (Foremost Artists, Musicians, and Entertainers), this year expanded to 39 high schools including Saugatuck, Holland West Ottawa, and Ludington, took place April 28-30, 1983 at the Frauenthal Center. Having something for everyone, this was an event filled with dreams of fame and glory. Once again, more people represented Oakridge at FAME than any other school, with 19.

Scott Morgan, Lou Miller, and Kurt Bonner received athletic awards because of their accomplishments. Sherri Rahn, 1983's valedictorian, represented OHS in the academic category. She received an academic award and a savings bond for her academic achievements. Sue Dratz, in her second year as a FAME participant, entered a painting in the visual arts category. This was Dave Miller's second year in FAME also. One of last year's Eaglemen, Dave went out on his own this year as OHS's competing performing arts representative with a French horn solo. Not competing this year, the Eaglemen were invited to perform Thursday and Saturday nights to the delight of the large audiences at the Frauenthal Center, as well as handling stage crew duties for the second year. The Eaglemen for 1983 were: Roger Taylor, Bill Halterman, Don Lewis, Brad Jones, Mark Hollenbeck, Tom Glockzin, Jeff Cook, Andy Vazquez, Phil Nelson, and Jack Russell. Many thanks go to Ms. Joiner for her extra efforts in accompanying both the Eaglemen and Dave Miller in FAME. Tiff Howell and Mary Miller were OHS's other participants in FAME 1983. They assisted in preparing the performers before they went on stage and organizing backstage activities. Thank-you's go to them for the nerves they calmed, the hassles they put up with, and the stupid questions they answered.

Joy Smith from Spring Lake won FAME 1983 with a marimba solo. Last year's winner, James Kolbe from West Shore Christian Academy, performed all three nights, igniting audiences with "Rise Again" (the song that won him FAME 1982) and "He's Alive." Dorothy Vogel and Terri Vanderlaan from Montague High (picture at lower left) performed Billy Joel's "Scenes from an Italian Restaurant," and were invited back to the finals on Saturday. Paul Betts, the producer and creator of FAME, deserves credit for making this exciting event happen. Thank you Paul! All West Michigan schools, but especially Oakridge, should be proud of the talent they sent to FAME. Congratulations!!

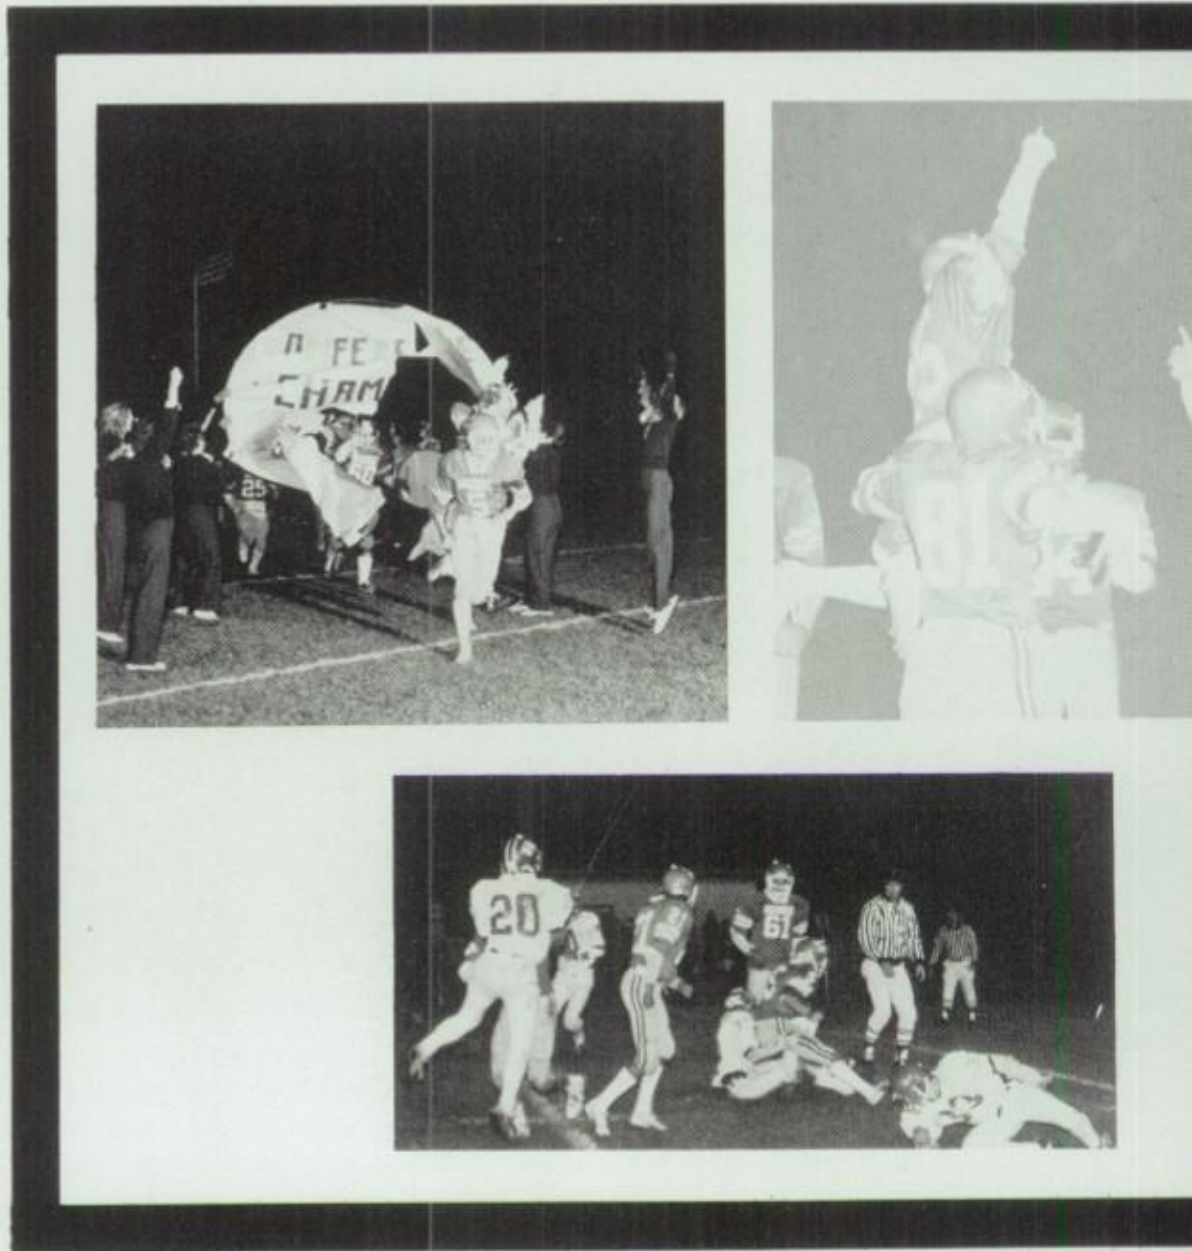

OHS's Business Club donated the calculators, dictionaries, and the cash register shown above. The money raised from their annual fund raisers was enough to pay for all the items. Presenting the gifts to Mr. Goyette: Rita Driscoll, Anita Carlson, and Deb Smith.

LUNCH TIME . . . CHANGED TIME

OHS cooks, Mrs. Rull and Mrs. Grimard, have changed what students eat for lunch. Eight years ago students had little choice in what they received for lunch, but today students can choose from a variety of items. In 1981, a salad bar gave students who wanted a lighter lunch a chance to eat at school. The biggest and best change is the ala carte menu of '83. Both the ideas came from a workshop the cooks attended. Another choice students have today, that those of 1975 didn't, is that of beverages. Where once the cooks could offer only homogenized milk, students now have four choices: low-fat milk, homogenized milk, chocolate milk, and orange drink.

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

The '83 Jr. & Sr. Prom was an evening filled with class and romance. The Junior Class did an excellent job of making the prom "a night to be remembered." Prom workers passed out garters and other prom memorabilia that is sure to turn up in senior books for years to come. Senior prom-goers will surely remember the last dance of high school as one of the best.
